MENTORSHIP

is central to Berry's culture.

From day one, student and faculty mentors are on hand to lend perspective. Throughout the college years, each student is advised by a personal network of caring staff, coaches, professors and Berry alumni.

THE RESULT: Our students have someone to turn to at all times — whether looking for extra help with coursework or personal guidance. This connection to Berry mentors continues after graduation as our graduates enter a network of fellow alumni in every profession.

All Berry students have guaranteed access to eight semesters of

PAID PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

through the college's signature LifeWorks program.

Our students choose among more than 1,000 different positions — across all 180 of the college's departments.

THE RESULT:

Growing from entry-level jobs into positions offering significant management and leadership experience, students deepen classroom learning through hands-on experience while gaining a wide range of skills that apply to any professional setting.
